

ANNUAL REPORT 2024-25

Message from the Founder & Secretary , Ashoka Sarma

Nurturing Possibilities, One Child at a Time

The journey of Projonmo has always been guided by compassion, unwavering commitment, and the unshakable belief that every child, regardless of ability or background, deserves the opportunity to flourish. As I reflect on the year gone by, my heart is filled with immense gratitude – for the trust reposed in us by families, the tireless dedication of our team, and above all, the resilience and courage of the children who inspire us every single day.

This year marked a significant milestone in our journey. With the launch of the Tamulpur Project under the Azim Premji Philanthropic Initiative, we took a bold step forward – extending our reach to underserved communities and reaffirming our commitment to inclusivity. At our Ankur Path centre, we continued to provide holistic therapy and education, constantly evolving our approach to meet the diverse and growing needs of children with developmental challenges.

We have also deepened our impact through meaningful collaborations – with organizations, academic institutions, and changemakers who share our vision. Our therapists, educators, support staff, and volunteers have remained the heart and soul of Projonmo, and it is through their collective strength that we continue to build bridges of hope.

Yet, the path is not without its challenges. Financial constraints, increasing demand, and the ongoing need for sustained support continue to test our resilience. But we remain undeterred. With resolve and purpose, we look to the future – determined to stabilize, strengthen, and expand our services while championing a society that embraces diversity and fosters true inclusion.

To each of you who have stood by us – thank you. Your belief in our mission fuels our determination. Let us continue this journey together – with compassion in our hearts and courage in our steps – to nurture every child's potential and build a more inclusive tomorrow.

With hope and gratitude,

Message from the President & Senior Psychologist Nimi Borgohain

As a psychologist, I am constantly reminded that growth is rarely linear — it is layered, complex, and deeply human. At Projonmo, we work with children whose journeys often defy typical milestones, yet they teach us, every day, about strength, adaptability, and the quiet power of small progress.

This year has been one of deep listening — to children who communicate in their own unique ways, to families navigating uncertainty, and to our team, who bring both expertise and empathy into every session and interaction. What emerges from this listening is a shared understanding: that development is not just about outcomes, but about relationships, trust, and consistent support.

The pages that follow reflect not just numbers or activities, but stories of connection — between therapists and children, between families and their hopes, between systems and the possibility of change. We have made meaningful strides, but also remain aware of the gaps that need attention and care.

To all who walk this path with us — thank you. Your belief strengthens ours. And to our children — thank you for showing us, time and again, what it truly means to grow. Let this report not only be a record of what we've done — but a reminder of what we can do, when compassion leads and community stands together.

Community Divyangjan Centre

Projonmo has launched the Community Divyangjan Centre in Tamulpur's rural area in Assam, addressing a significant gap in therapy services for children with disabilities. Supported by the Azim Premji Foundation, this initiative brings essential support to those in need.

This is a new project and the objective of the project is to support all identified children with disabilities (CWSN) in 20 villages of Tamulpur block and district. The aim to provide these children, approximately 100-120 in total, With appropriate rehabilitation services and connect them to necessary entitlements. Additionally, we aim to offer counselling to parents and enhance the capabilities of government front-line workers (Anganwadi workers and Asha Karmis) in early identification of disabilities.

Promoting Inclusive Education: A Lecture on Integrating Specially Abled Children by Ashoka Sarma - The Secretary

As a guest lecturer at the National Institute of Public Cooperation and Child Development (NIPCCD) on 24.05.2024, Ashoka Sarma had the pleasure of interacting with the students of the Advanced Diploma in Child Guidance and Counselling course (ADCGC) at the Regional Centre in Guwahati. It was an enriching experience to discuss the topic "Reworking School Environment: Joint Solution Finding," which focused on inclusive schooling and the integration of specially abled children. The lecture was based on the experiences with integration and inclusion at Projonmo. The ADCGC students participated actively and contributed significantly to the discussion.

MAY MONTH'S GROUP ACTIVITY

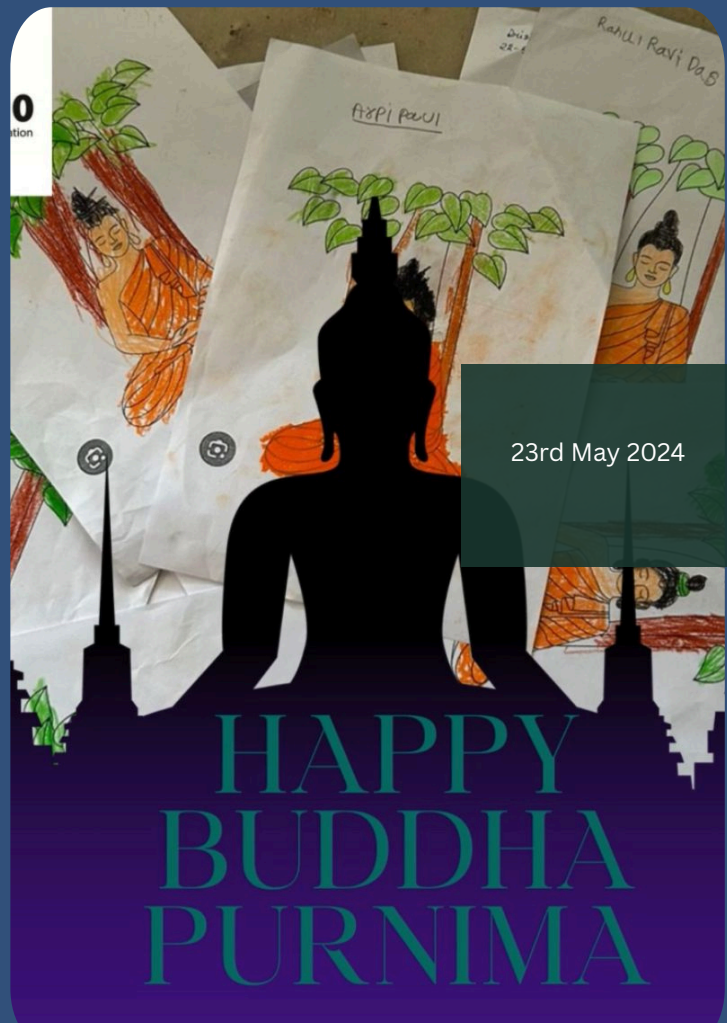

22 May 2024

May month's group activities were tailored to promote communication and social interaction by encouraging children to request objects from others and ask by numbers, while copying actions shown by a therapist helps develop motor skills and the ability to follow instructions. Additionally, activities like lining up, waiting for turns, and engaging in treasure hunting teach patience, discipline, problem-solving, and exploration.

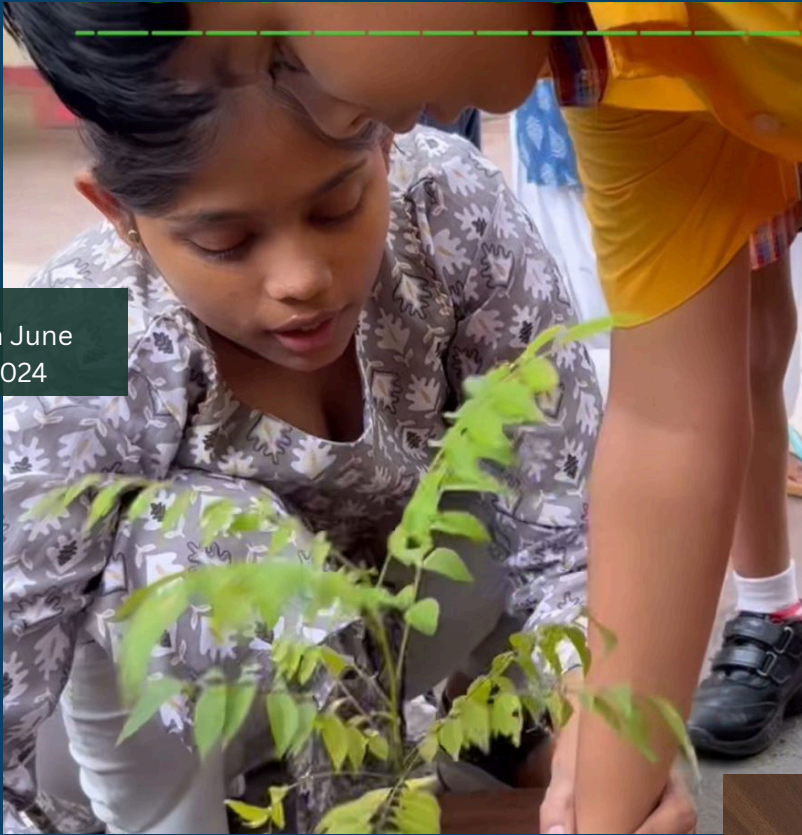

Observation of Buddha Purnima

Buddha Purnima was observed at our center with a series of engaging activities for our special needs children. The children enjoyed a coloring session, expressing their creativity through vibrant depictions of themes related to Gautam Buddha. Following the artistic activity, they watched a movie on "Kind Siddharth" which provided them with insights into his life and teachings. The event was both educational and enjoyable, offering a meaningful way for the children to connect with the significance of Buddha Purnima.
